Operating expenses were $2.887.854, leaving a balance of $965.044. Deducting taxes, $49.482; depreciation, $160.071, and the inventory of copper, December 31, 1913, $189.748, leaves the net nicome from the year's operation $615.792.
That the results have 3615.792.

That the results have been as profitable as shown, in spite of the disturbed conditions in Mexico, where the properties of the corporation are located, may surprise some of the share-indicate.

inolders.

The consolidated balance sheet of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company and of the Cananea Consolidated Company, subsidiaries of the Greene-Cananea Company, shows a surplus $4.628,378 at the end of 1914, as compared with $5.012,580 surplus at the close of 1913.

London Stock Market.

LONDON. May 29.—Money and discount rates were quiet today. The news from the front was considered more encouraging, and the stock market had a cheerful tone. Home and foreign bonds were firm and kaffirs were good features on Cape buying.

Off shares were attady. American securities were duil. Prices declined fractionally during the short session, but the closing was steady.
